

Flooring Materials

All floors in this house are solid North American walnut.

"Walnuts" have long been used as high-quality furniture, but it is said that they will be difficult to obtain in the near future.

The flooring of this house was oil-finished instead of transparent paint.

The reason is to create a comfortable space where you can feel the original walnut texture in your life. When oil finished walnuts are new, their expressions change dramatically due to the sun's ultraviolet rays.

It looks more and more wonderful over time.

Let's enjoy the change of nature.
